

About the Chair

Bart St Clair is thrilled to be the Chairperson for the Baltimore School for Arts' Expressions '25, returning from a long hiatus after his previous Expressions engagement—as Follow Spot Operator #1 during Expressions 1987, when he was a Sophomore theatre major at BSA.

In his current professional role, Bart St Clair is an Executive Consultant with Symmetra, working closely with the leadership teams of multi-national corporations to drive performance and innovation through inclusion. Symmetra unleashes human capital through end to-end diversity and inclusion solutions that change the way business is done.

Prior to his current position, Bart was Head of Firmwide Learning at Goldman Sachs, with global responsibility for leadership development, diversity and inclusion, professional skills, and building organizational culture. Bart focused on initiatives that develop a diverse talent pipeline, build manager excellence, foster inclusion to drive innovation and increase employee engagement. Prior to transferring his skills as an arts professional to the corporate realm, St Clair was for 15 years an actor and theater director in the US and abroad, leading productions at Lincoln Center in New York, the Kennedy Center in Washington DC, among other professional theaters.

He is a proud graduate of the Baltimore School for the Arts and Harvard University. He and husband, Juan, are staunch longtime supporters of the Posse Foundation, whose mission is to expand the pool from which top colleges and universities can recruit outstanding young leaders from diverse backgrounds in order to build leaders of tomorrow who are equipped to develop consensus solutions to complex social problems.

Though Bart is Baltimore-born, he and Juan currently live in Palo Alto, CA, with their daughter, Ramona. His latest theatrical engagement is directing the annual elementary school talent show at Escondido Elementary.
